

 Search

-  Home
-  Guides
-  Reference
-  Learn

- Automate submissions
- Use EAS Update
- Trigger builds from CI
- Trigger builds from GitHub App
- ☒ App Signing
 - App credentials
 - Use automatically managed credentials
 - Use local credentials
 - Use existing credentials
 - Sync credentials between remote and local sources
 - Security
- ☒ Custom builds
 - Get started
 - Config schema
 - TypeScript functions
- ☒ Reference
 - Build schema for eas.json
 - Migrate from "expo build"
 - Build lifecycle hooks

Use private npm packages

Learn how to configure EAS Build to use private npm packages.

EAS Build has full support for using private npm packages in your project. These can either be published to npm

-  On this page
- Default npm configuration
 - Private packages published to npm
 - Packages published to a private registry
 - Both private npm packages and private registry
 - Submodules in private repositories